CONCERT MOVED TO DEC.18

The middle school band concert was held Monday night rather than last Wednesday because of the ice storm.

The band played "March to the Big Top," "Blue Rock", "Twas the Concert before Christmas", "Liturgical Fanfare", "Rudoplh the Red-Nosed Reindeer," amd "All for Chanukah."

They also played for Cedar STreet and the middle school on Tuesday, the 19th. by j.f. and k.h.

CHOIR CONCERT TONIGHT

Happy holidays! Just a reminder about our busy December schedule. We appreciate your support and hope you can join us tonight at 7:00 in the middle school auditorium.

The choir also played for the middle school asembly on Monday and the Cedar Street students later that morning.

There are three choir groups. 7th grade choir, 8th grade choir and a combo choir. The songs they are performing include "It's Christmas" "Deo Gratias", "Light up the Tree" and "Let it Snow". The 8th grade are singing" Celebrate the King".

"The Most Wonderful Time of the Year", " Holiday Madgrigal", and "Rockin Roll Christmas."

The combo choir will do "Ding Dong Merrily ", "Allelujah", "Silver Bells" and "Carol of the Bells."

AMERICA AND ME WINNERS

Andrew Alexander, Jack Conway, Tracy Miller, Angela Ferrari, Katie Abshagen, Jennifer Sikora, Abby Wolownik, Mike Martin, Sam Allen and Rachel Roberts wrote essays that were selected for competition in the Michigan Farm Bureau essay contest, "America and Me."

This year's topic was easy since the bond issue passed. The topic was "Pride in my Community."

The judges will choose the best essay from our building and that essay will go on to the state competition against about 600 or so other eight graders. The top ten in the state stand to win from $500 to $1000 in savings bonds from their writing plus a trip to Lansing to meet important state-level government figures.

WRESTLING : OUR STORY

Wrestling is a toough sport . We alll work our selves hard and we enjoy it. We are certified (men) according to Coach Winters. Just ask any of us.

We have been working hard all month and so far no one has given up. We have spirit and we all work as a team. We all work hard and enjoy right. (men)

Wrestling, says Eric Ridderbos except at the beginning and the end of practice when Coach Winters likes to give lectures. (they are very inspiring...haha).

It's a great sport. Watch for meets and their results in January and February. by mark and eric

WHO ARE THE WRESTLERS?

Mark Houghton, Tom Coles, Dan Shreve, Abram Beyer, Jim Hagg, Jeff Thomas, Brian Merwin, Philip Sang, Joel Pyard, Jim OSbon, Eric Ridderbos, John Hopson,. Ben Ball, Justin Buck, and Cory Wallace.

The coaches are Winters and Teske.

ROLLERWORLD PARTY FUN

Friday we had a skating party at Rollerworld. It was a blast! If you weren't there you really missed out. It began at 1:45 and ended at 5:00.

I was surprised how many people showed up. There were some really great skaters there.

6th graders are swift! I hope all of you had a lot of fun.

SECRET SANTAS in LIT CLASSES

The seventh grade classes of MR. Wilson and Mr. Snyder are doing secret santas 7th hour. Everyone who wanted to participate had their names put in a stocking and they pulled out someone else's name.

Secret Santa is going on all this week, the 18th through the 22. This is the first year the students have tried this.

YOUR FAVORITE ICE CREAM IS..

We surveyed a segment of the middle school and discovered that Moose Tracks is the number one favorite ice cream in Paw Paw.

Second place were Chocolate and Cookie Dough, tied. Vanilla and Strawberry were tied for third place. Mint Chocolate chip was a close fourth.

Your next favorites included Cookiest Cream, Chocolate Chip, Mackinaw Fudge, Vanilla with Sprinkles, Superman, French Silk , Peanut Butter, Butter Pecan, Bear Claw, Mint, and Chocalate Vanilla.

Bon appetit and pass the chocolate sauce!

SADD DANCE SUCCESS DEC.8

The SADD Dance was pretty fun. They played a song in memory of Tara Sperry who had just been killed by a drunken driver. (Tara was a former middle school student)

SADD, Students Against Drunk Drivers, a high school organization, sponsored the dance and the dance contest held.

The three winners of the dance contest were MArk Houghton, Michelle Carter and Bianca Cross. Michelle and Bianca took first place and Mark took second.

The dj took requests. Most everyone had a blast!

by nikki and jessica

WHAT IS SADD ALL ABOUT?

Paw PAw Middle School SADD week is organized by people from the high school who are in the SADD council and come to persuade students against drunk driving.

All of the students in the middle school were given red ribbons to show that they support this cause. If you wore your ribbon all week you got a cookie at lunch. Yay. And if you continued to wear your ribbon through Dec. 8, you got a discount on your dance ticket.

The people from the SADD council not only planned the dance but also attended it.

EVery year students from the high school come to teach us not to drink and drive. We are very thankful for the SADD members who take their time and show their devotion in caring for young teens.

CANNED GOODS DRIVE ENDS

Well over six hundred cans were donated during the student council can drive. The winning class was the class of 2002 with nearly 240 cans. Great job, guys.

MEET MR. WATTERWORTH

Mr. Watterworth started teaching when he was hired . He taught in the service in 1963.

In 1965 he started teaching at Paw Paw.

In his spare time he plays golf and helps people with their financial plans.

Mr. Watterworth used to coach baseball, basketball, (boys and girls) and football.

His hobbies are spectator sports, golfing and traveling.

TOP TEN ELF NAMES
collaborated by Jack Conway

It's unfortunate that the first Santa that we all knew and loved has passed away. However, with me at the wheel (or reins) of the sled as Conway Claus, you will all be much happier. The first thing I've done for you is compiled a list of my favorite elf names in descending order.

10: Elf elf
9 . Screwball
8. Spock
7. Egghead
6. Alf
5. Elf who dances with Wolves
4. D'elf
3. Elf -in- the- box
2. Little Miss Elf
1. Lucifer (oops..) Pointy Nosed Elf with horns

IT'S CHRISTMAS.. ALL OVER.. the WORLD....

What's Christmas like in ARizona? According to Jon Smith, it's not at all like it is here in Michigan. In Tucson, you see a lot of decorated trees... yucca trees.

No one's house has lights on the outside and none of the stores sell ornaments. The only color people seemed to have on their trees is red.

The temperature's around 65 It even rains. The days after Christmas are normal enough. Then New Year's EVe comes and the excitement starts up.again.

What's it like in Hawaii? Candy Cole says that when they were there this year around Thanksgiving it was very hot. It was rainy all the time. They had a lot of poinsettias hanging from palm trees.

There were no lights at all. People had cocoanuts on top of trees. The Christmas trees were palm trees.

THE GOOD TIMES STAFF this time: Ashley Lee, Mary Ann Wren, T.C. STaggs, MElissa Whisler, Jon Smith. SO HOW'S THE BIG GUY?

I recently visited the Crossroads Mall and saw "Santa". The big guy was busy asking questions about what kids wanted for Christmas. The line went from Santa's chair to Radio Shack. One kid shouted at Santa, "I want an electric train." (I guess he was excited...). by j. smith

Crossroads Santa has been so busy that no one could get near him to do any more than give him their requests so this year none of the staff managed to sit on his lap and interview him ...Better luck next November.

HOWEVER.... JACK INTERVIEWED MRS.CLAUS

This is my interview with the recently widowed Mrs. Claus (Santa's recent demise is the reason that Conway Claus is now on the job.)

Mrs. C. "Hello dear. What do you want for Christmas?"

Conway.:" "Er, actually I am the new Santa recruit."

Mrs. C.: "Oh really? What a cute little Santa you'll make."

Conway: "Well, Mrs. Claus. Let's talk turkey. Do you mind talking about Santa?"

Mrs. C.:" Oh dear no. I'll talk. He was such a jolly ole elf. He loved the rush of the wind through his hair and beard," Conway:" Really ? I couldn't tell if he had hair, what with his hat and..."

Mrs. C.:" Bless me, the phone. Will you excuse me?"

Conway:" Go ahead."

LATER.

Mrs.C.: "That was Rudolph. He wishes you luck in the Santa business."

Conway."What a swell ol' chap. Well, I have another question." What did Santa really do all year after Christmas?"

Mrs. C. : "Oh he slept a lot. He ater most of the time he was awake. Other than that, he played shuffleboards with the reindeer."

Conway:" "I see. Does that mean the reindeer can stand up right?"

Mrs. C." No, they just kick it with their hooves."

C: " OK. I get that one. Ha Ha. Got time for one more question?"

M.:" Does it seem that way?"

C." Whatever. What are your hobbies?"

M.:" I have a ton. I like to knit, sew and mend clothes for... well, I did until , well, you know. I also lick skiiing, skating, swimming and skateboarding. I belong to a yarn club . My internet address is MRSCLAUSENPOLE.HOLIDAY.CO M. E-Mail me sometime."

C.:"OK., Mrs. Claus. Will do." Hopefully we'll get along.

ONLY TWO SCHOOL DAYS LEFT TIL CHRISTMAS BREAK! HURRAY!

MRS. C. SMITH INTERVIEWED

by miranda

Mrs. C. Smith grew up in Athens, MI. She had an easy childhood. She used to tear around town or play outside.

She has two children, Carolyn, 16, and Sarah, 14. She has two sisters and one brother: Jane, Kathleen, and Ed. They all got along pretty well.

She likes teaching and said,"I always thought that's what I'd be, but sometimes wished I'd be an astronaut." Her favorite subject is science. She said, "You guys make me silly."

Mrs. Smith is really glad about getting a new high school. She wishes we were getting a new middle school. She likes moving and says that moving makes you change and it will be fun to move.

She likes students who take part in class, do their assignments and are respectful to other students, teachers and grown-ups. She dislikes children who are mean to other children or bother them or cause a disruption.

Her hobbies are reading and talking to people. In her spare time she usually spends time with her kids and goes to basketball games and school-related activities.

Some of her favorite foods are diet pepsi and almost everything else. Her favorite school foods are veggies: green beans, fries and tatertots.

She likes to read mysteries and comedies but doesn't like horror or science fiction. I asked her who her favorite actors were and she said,"I don't have any. I'm boring."

SURVEYS... WHAT DO WE WANT FOR CHRISTMAS/ HOLIDAYS?

Cristiana Spry wants" a Harley Davidson I can build myself." AMy Baugher and Casey Jasinsky would like " sky dancers and a Malibu Ken doll, Jenny Gymnast, Power Ranger Doll (the white one) and polly pockets."

Ashley Connor wants" MSU stuff." Natalie Alden wants" the Woody puppet from Toy Story." Luke Read wants " a weight bench." Katie Anderson wants" a ferret book and a dog book...a bow and arrow."

Zach Erickson wants " a kitten." Mrs. Swanson would like a week of "ice skating and swimming."

Ashley Herron wants "a lot of cars... little cars. I am a tom boy. Hey I grew up with two older brothers." Christine Byrd would like " money to go to Van Buren Youth Camp this summer." Abram Beyer would like" a hockey net for outside." Eric Pasman wants " a BB gun, a go kart and a mini bike."

..John Hopson wants "a CD walkman". one of the most popular of the listed wishes. Noell Russell wants a "dog." Mary Ann WRen wants " an 18 speed bike." Fred Cabras wants" Donkey Kong Country 2 on SN."

Tom Coles says he "wants everything to do with Power Rangers."

WANTS AND WISHES

Carrie Kowalczyck wants " 95 Polaris Snowmobile." Kim Fricko wants " an art set and money." Chelsea DeRyke wants "surprises."

Corine Walker wants to see her cousins from Harvey, IL. and for "my dad to have a day off." Matt Bailly wants " box of ultra fleet football cards." Chris DeRight wants " new tv stations like Cinemax and HBO." Ryan Boulter wants a 12 gauge.

Summing up everything best though was Samantha Stubbs who said, "I like anything really. It's not the gift at a holiday; it's the thought that counts."

SO WHAT ARE OUR CUSTOMS?

Going to cousins or grandma's topped the list of traditions on Christmas day. Evan Jordan does Christmas at his cousin's. Kristel Albertson goes to her grandma's. as does Heather Taylor. Amy Jeschke's family go to her aunt's after church. Ken Stamper also visits relatives.

Eating was a big part of everyone's Christmas. Rachel Spruitt mentioned "a nice dinner." Mrs. Meach has eggnog and wassail on Christmas eve. Ryan Vyverman has coffee cake.

Traveling is a tradition for a lot of us. Kelly Mapes goes up to the U.P. to her grandparents. Nathaniel Krefman goes to Arkansas to visit.Loressa Osbun goes to N. Carolina or Texas every few years to visit relatives. Angelina Holt goes up north.

Heather Gallbraith has "three Christmases."

Everyone opened gifts. Some the night before Christmas, some during Hanukkah, some on Christmas morning. Just the how many at a time and where seemed to shift from family to family.

Tom Henley's gamily makes "pumpkin pie ice cream." LAcey Englehart gets up at 4 a.m. Justin Talbot goes to his grandparents' house in Africa. (hmmm.) Cabras's make a Swedish dish called "stoloan."

Mathew Monroe always has" snowball fights." Pam Henderson makes " a yarn Christmas tree and there are ornaments to count down to Christmas." Garrett Schermerhorn waits til Christmas eve to get a tree. Nikki O'Keefe's family do a secret santa thing and pick names at Thanksgiving. Casey McKenzie gets fruit in her stocking.

Chris Peshl said his family does something real original.."open presents."

THE FIRST SNOW kelly mapes

I sit by the window, looking out at the first snow.
So transcendental, crisp and white
It blankets my world in silence and peace like the night sky,
As if I were in a crystal globe.
Singing its magnificent song, the first snow is a shield from the cold winds of winter.
as if I were a princess in a mystical land.
I sit by my sill watching the first snow quietly fall all around me.

MORE POETRY... see Mrs. Swanson for your prizes and many thanks for your entries... lots of good work.

DAD is LOST kevin mattison

Great! Dad is lost.
This is going to cost.
We're almost to a rest stop.
Great ! Here comes a cop.
"Hello," Dad said.
The cop's name is Fred.
""You're going too fast.
Trust me. This will be your last
'Cause you could have caused a crash.
It's Christmas. I'll let you pass."
Now it's starting to rain.
I think I'm about to pull out hair.
Yes! We're there.

HOLIDAY PROSE by n. offord

The holidays are breaking loose to make a new way for celebration.
There will be Christmas trees and presents and I will see my family in Kalamazoo.
My mind is full of buying special packages and receiving some too.
My thoughts are full of seeing my cousins, my aunts, uncles and grandparents.
My holiday spirit is influenced by joy and singing of the season.
The snow is so sparkling white and so soft to touch.
Holidays are a time for relaxing, eating big meals and staying home, watching movies.
The holidays are breaking loose to make a new way for celebration..

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY by kelly barkovich

Everyone is dancing
while Diana is prancing.
She trips on some holly
But pretends to be jolly.
She does the moon walk
and continues to talk.
She goes to get punch and then all of a sudden Crunch!
Then in came St. Nick
Rudolph gave her a kick.
Hey you deer
Are you like not seeing clear?
Hello, this is a Christmas party,
And we don't accept tardies.
Get out you nerd.
You're so absurd.
I hate your guts.
You evil klutz.
She yelled "Get out!"
And he did without a doubt.!!

I'LL NEVER WAIT UP AGAIN!

I'm sitting on my couch waiting for Christmas. It's nine o'clock. My cookies are almost done. Man, my friends harrass me but I know he'll come.

Wow the tree is gorgeous, shingin and shimmering. ..glimmering and green.. but still no presents. 10 o'clock. Mom goes to bed, looks at me , whispers good night for she doesn't want to wake up my dad.

I smile and look at the cookies and milk. Well maybe the milk will spoil so I walk over to the sink and dump it out.. I wait. 11:00 p.m. Where is he? Why hasn't he come?

No presents still. Midnight. Mom , dad are sleeping . Still no presents. 1:00 a.m. I put down my book ,The Doll in the Garden, byMary Dowling Hahn. I'll turn on the tv .

Nuts. Only one exercise half-hour show... a commercial at that. 5:00 a.m. Sorry I dozed off... but still no presents under the tree.

Mom just got up and came by me, kissed me on the side of the head and rocked me as a tear rolled down the side of my cheek.

I think it's all over. No Santa. My friends were right. My mom said "Wait til next year." But I'm not going through all that pain.

SANTA CLAUS... FACT/ FICTION

St. Nicholas is Santa Claus. He was a bishop in 300 .A.D. who supposedly gave presents of money to three girls who were orphans and had no dowry (needed those days to marry.)

In Holland, the Dutch celebrate St. Nicholas day on Dec. 6 and put out their shoes for treats. They also believe he had a servent black Petter who was said to be the deveil but that Santa bit him and made him his servant.

In Germany children were told that Christ Child brought their gifts. So the children left out food for him in case he was hungry.

He is often shown wearing red just as Father Christmas in England wore long red robes.

People will say they have seen Santa others have said they have seen the reindeer in the sky. Pilots report seeing him in the sky as well.

The theory is he lives in the north pole... A couple of years ago someone put a plaque at the north pole and letters hoping Santa would get them.

Believe some of this? Any of this? It's all up to you.

GERMAN CLASS BEGINS

Fourth hour Thursdays (mostly) 28 eighth graders meet for German class in room 203.

The students needed permission from their fourth hour teacher and average to better grades in LA and Lit. class to sign up.

OPENING MORNING..by b. twardowski

It is opening morning; all the hunters are up and getting ready before the sun comes up. Out to the woods the hunters in orange go quietly.

In the woods on a seat or in a stand, they sit patiently waiting for the monster buck to come or any other decent-sized deer that might wander by.

It is nine a.m. ; drowsiness is slipping over them. The numbing cold has their trigger finger in a pocket. The smell of pine is unmistakeable.

Just then , a snap of a twig. The hunter is wide awake, adrenalin flowing through his veins.

The trophy buck is right underneath him. Waiting for the perfect shot, the huner keeps his eye on the deer. After a long while he lets the slug go. Straight through both lungs, it drops the buck on the spot. One trophy buck, one happy hunter.

WALK TO THE CORNER j.sikora

The cold wind blows the furious snowflakes against my face. My feet are encased up to my ankles in a fresh blanket of fluffy snow. The melting snow seeps through my thin canvas shoes, chilling my feet.

Small animals crash through the underbush. The wind makes eerie whistling noises as it blows through the bare trees. The snow beneath my shoes makes a slight crunching noise as I walk.

A light from a nearby house aids the failing sunlight too illuminate the giant snow-covered trees. Snowflakes come rushing down from the sky. I reach the corner and turn around, heading back for home.

CHRISTMAS by l. englehart

Caroling to the neighbors
Hot chocolate after sledding
Resisting the presents under the tree
Icicles hanging from the house trim
Silver bells on sleighs
Tree trimming special ornaments
Mad because I don't get the one I wanted
Angels on the top of every one's tree
Stocking hanging on the fireplace.
